

Optional Workshops which are open to registrants of the 2019 Surgery Conference:

- Social Media Pre-Conference Workshop, Sunday, January 27, 4:00-6:00 pm: This workshop is designed to help you become more comfortable with all that social media can do for your practice, your patient care, and your career. It will provide attendees with an overview of how to navigate Twitter and integrate medical social media platforms into your current practice. (Free)
- Vertigo Workshop, Monday, January 28, 3:00-4:00 pm: This workshop will review the Dix-Hallpike and Epley maneuvers, as well as the HINTS exam. This Acute Neurological Assessment workshop will be hands-on and interactive with brief background teaching. ($50)
- Ethics Breakout Session, Tuesday, January 29, 3:00-4:15 pm: This workshop will address "Cases that Stick With You". Do you have a case that has always bothered you? Wonder whether you did the "right" thing? Discuss your case with two clinical ethicists - and prepare yourself for the next moral dilemma in your practice. ($50)
- Wilderness Medicine Workshop, Wednesday, January 30, 11:30 am - 3:30 pm: Join the UVMCMC Wilderness Medicine faculty for an afternoon of fresh mountain air, actively running rescue and resuscitation scenarios in the winter backcountry. topics will include snow burial, beacon searches, resuscitation considerations, hypothermia, frostbite and complex evacuations with a hypothermic patient. Anticipate further correspondence upon registration. Participants will be required to have appropriate outdoor clothing, footwear and some gear (i.e. beacon, shovel, probe). ($120)

You can sign up for any of these workshops when you register. For more information, email UVMCME@med.uvm.edu.
