Re: Constitution Day

September 17, 2019 is designated by Congress as Constitution Day. We encourage you to celebrate this living document by visiting our U.S. Constitution page. You can find links to a variety of online resources that can help you expand your knowledge about the constitution and its importance in our daily lives.

Also, a limited number of pocket Constitutions are available for free and can be obtained by visiting the Howe Library. We look forward to honoring a piece of our nation's history together with the entire UVM community.
