Subject: Delayed email

Good Morning,

This weekend UVM experienced an issue with email which resulted in the delayed delivery of some messages. These messages should have now been delivered to your mailbox. One of the systems that scan incoming email attachments for malicious content such as spam, phishing, and viruses stopped processing email. This caused those messages to be stuck and not delivered to the final destination. Over the past few days UVM has been working to resolve this issue and late last night was successful in retrieving all messages.

At COMIS we fully understand the critical role email plays in our community and apologize for any impact this may have caused.

If you have any questions, please contact the LCOM Service Center at 802-488-5553
