Hello,

We are delighted to announce that Geisinger Health System is starting a new Emergency Medicine residency program. We are recruiting our first class to start in July 2023. We ask for your help sharing this with your students and student advisors.

We are a 3-year program based at Geisinger Wyoming Valley Medical Center in Wilkes-Barre, PA which is a tertiary care center serving the high-complexity, high-acuity population of northeast Pennsylvania. Residents will also rotate at our community site in downtown Wilkes-Barre. Geisinger's core values are kindness, excellence, safety, learning and innovation. These tenets fit well with the mission and philosophy of our program leadership. Residents will gain competence through a carefully guided process of progressive clinical responsibility, rigorous didactic education, and simulation training. The program will expose residents from day one to the full range of patient complaints and presentations. Our team of dedicated faculty is sincerely committed to a holistic educational process that puts an emphasis on your wellness.

Wilkes-Barre is a beautiful medium-sized city located in the foothills of the Pocono mountains. There are ample outdoor activities including hiking, biking, skiing, whitewater sports, and fishing. We are within a 2-hour drive of NYC and Philadelphia and a regional airport puts us in easy reach of any destination.
