

From: LCOM Office of the Dean <COMOfficeOfTheDean@med.uvm.edu>

Sent: Monday, December 12, 2022 1:59 PM

Subject: December Tapas Session

Hello Tapas Community!

In respect of the busy time that December can be, we have decided to make December's Tapas session asynchronous- meaning you can watch it at that time that fits best for you

The session is: Writing a Strong Approach Section presented by Dr. Christopher Francklyn (link below)
<https://uvmcom.zoom.us/recording/share/qi1n6OAqirErDZr2ZDtelnktfE7wQr63tz1-hUQXvl?startTime=1554307400000>

- ✓ This session intentionally follows last month's excellent session presented by Dr. Sylvie Doublet
Optimizing Your Specific Aims
 - Didn't get a chance to attend that one? Check out the video (link below) and share with others that may be interested- was a very informative session
<http://www.med.uvm.edu/facultyaffairs/developmentgroup/past-development-events>
- ✓ The rest of the Tapas sessions in 2023 will be synchronous, all in person (with zoom links for those that this fits best), with great topics and good treats
 - We are finalizing that schedule and will make available soon so that you can plan ahead to attend and engage in this great community of learning and unlearning

RESEARCH TAPAS

“Writing a Strong Approach Section”

Christopher Francklyn, Ph.D.

The University of Vermont
LARNER COLLEGE OF MEDICINE

December, 2022
Asynchronous Video

A 20 minute video presentation about a strong approach section

Sponsored by the Dean's Office - Larner College of Medicine