“If you’re thinking without writing, you only think you’re thinking.” - Leslie Lamport

The Graduate Writing Center (GWC) is open and ready to help you with your writing! We have trained consultants across a wide range of disciplines to support you with any project at any stage of the writing process, from brainstorming for a class paper to final edits on a dissertation. Appointments are free and available Sunday-Friday. Go to uvm.mywconline.net to make an in-person or online appointment or to sign up for our in-person Sunday writing retreats.
