

National AMSA Communication - University of Vermont College of Medicine

LCOM currently has an American Medical Student Association (AMSA) Chapter, however, it is inactive (student interest group has not completed the Student Council SIG renewal process since 2016).

If you are interested in re-activating this group on campus, please reach out to Dr. Jan Carney, the former AMSA Faculty Adviser. Dr. Carney is happy and willing to continue her role as the faculty advisor should students wish to re-activate the group.

Seventy years strong, AMSA is a student-led, national association that exists to cultivate, inspire and inform medical students. We do this by offering students the vital skills needed to lead and listen, and a safe place to explore, reflect and become the kind of physician who thinks beyond drugs and diagnoses: the kind of physician you want to become.

Many think of AMSA as a family— a diverse, impassioned network that supports one another in meaningful ways. AMSA offers its members leadership opportunities and community, guidance for the residency application process, discounts ranging from test prep to travel—and a place in AMSA's long history of advocacy for both patients and future physicians.

At AMSA:

1. We are completely student governed and have been for our 65+ years of existence
2. Advocacy plays a significant role at AMSA and it shows throughout our long history
3. We are made up of a diverse student base of 33,000 physicians-in-training and lead by a diverse group of student leaders

Our website which lists our membership options, several opportunities for medical students including our Residency/Match Prep, Mentorship, and Clinical Rotation/Internship programs, and our upcoming advocacy and national leadership opportunities.
