

From: O'Reilly, Deirdre M. <Deirdre.O'Reilly@uvmhealth.org>
Sent: Wednesday, November 20, 2019 4:13 PM
To: StudentCOMServices <StudentCOMServices@med.uvm.edu>
Subject: MD1050 Elective

Hello Class of 2020,

Please join us for a new elective this year, designed to introduce students and residents to teaching in academic medicine. Two sessions remain, and consist of a reading week followed by a week of interactive small-group sessions. The second week of the course features attendance for one day at a Larner COM Teaching Academy sponsored conference, where you can learn and network with academic clinicians and residents from a wide variety of specialties that pursue educational scholarship, teaching, and mentoring. The small group sessions during the second week include topics such as Clinical Teaching, Microteaching, Feedback, Reflection, and methods for starting your own educational portfolio. Please join us to learn about effective strategies for teaching and learning in medicine!

For more information, please contact the course director, Deirdre O'Reilly.

MD 1050 Teaching in Medicine: Residents and Students as Teachers
Jan 6-Jan 17
April 20-May 1

Deirdre O'Reilly, M.D., M.P.H.
Assistant Professor of Pediatrics
Neonatal-Perinatal Medicine
Program Director, Neonatal-Perinatal Medicine Fellowship
Robert Larner, M.D. College of Medicine at The University of Vermont
Main Campus, Smith 5
111 Colchester Avenue
Burlington, VT 05401
(802) 847-1366