Financial Wellness Announcement: Joe Hicks, part-time Financial Wellness Counselor, is no longer with the College of Medicine; we thank him for the assistance he provided us throughout fall 2019. We apologize for any disruption this may cause you; however, we remain fully committed to your financial wellness and will be continuing to offer group sessions on various topics in the meantime. Please stay tuned for further announcements about our financial guidance offerings and initiatives moving forward. If you have questions, please contact MedSFS@uvm.edu.

Thanks,

Kari
